REMARKS

DD/FBIS has assigned task of rationalizing differences in style between DR and UD/JPRS in effort to ~~make~~ allow more rapid publication of JPRS materials in the DR via the "camera ready" copy (i.e., mats come back from JPRS ready for publication in the DR). One of the suggestions made by those of us meeting on this question has been to include additional information in the sourceline used for Soviet journals.

Current: Moscow KOMMUNIST in Russian No 7 signed to press 21 June 82 pp... FOUO

Proposed: Moscow KOMMUNIST in Russian No 7 July 82
(signed to press 21 Jun 82) pp....

This new sourceline would include the month and year of the issue, as well as signed-to-date info. It enables readers DO NOT use this form as a RECORD of approvals, concurrences, disposals, clearances, and similar actions (over) automatically^{to} know when the issue appeared in Moscow, as well as the sensitive signed-to-date information. For example, with KOMMUNIST, which has 18 issues a year, it is often difficult for reader to know ~~which~~ the issue actually appeared in Moscow.

FROM: (Name, org. symbol, Agency/Post)	Room No.—Bldg.
Managing Editor, DED	Phone No.

I recommend this change, ~~xx~~ It will make the sourcelines used by both OD/JPRS and ~~XX~~ DR the same, and editors will not have to interfere with the camera ready items, which would defeat the purpose of camera ready procedures.

Are Problems?

Not much problem with this. Only reservation I have is running together the volume number and month of publication. Read quickly, the date of publication looks like 7 July 82. In this respect, prefer the practice in the DR (29 Jul F 1 and 30 Jul K 3) of setting off the month of publication with commas. Also, assume July 82 should read Jul 82.
